in Alsace-Lorraine are not on quite so large a scale as the German Kaiser is witnessing in Austria, but they are exciting a good deal more interest across the frontier in France, where the French are also going through the evolutions of mimic war. The German military display does not attract the same admiration and attention as the French among the surrounding people. The Alsatians ignore the parade just as sullenly as they did twenty years ago, when the Germans took possession. A Paris correspondent who has visited Alsace, says that there is no genuine change in the at-tachments of the people to France and that the Germans are looked upon as a foreign

WARSAW'S NEW GOVERNOR.

GEN. KOMEROFF'S APPOINTMENT COLDLY RE-CEIVED BY THE RUSSIAN POLES. LONDON, Sept. 4.—The appointment of Gen.
Komeroff as Governor of Warsaw has been coldly received by the Russian Poles, as the General has a high reputation for severity in putting down disaffection. While Governor-General of the Trans-Caspian he had an exe-cution nearly every day, and sometimes two or three a day of Nomad natives who had violated some trivial regulation of which they were ignorant. Among Komeroff's vic-tims was the wife of a Russian army officer. The wife, a young woman, long married, was accused of Nihilism. Komeroff, who knew no higher law than the will of the Czar, held a one-sided trial and sentenced the lady to the Irish local government bill at the next a one-sided trial and sentenced the lady to Siberia. Her husband committed suicide. Komeroff is admitted to be an able com-mander and his appointment to Warsaw may mean that he is wanted where his military jority who are opposed, and it is claimed that oughly disheartened to make any more effort

THE SPREAD OF BRIGANDAGE IN TURKEY-WANT AN ITALIAN POPE. CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 4.—It is stated upon good authority that the dismissal yesterday of the Turkish Ministry was due to the Sultan's discontent at the spread of brigandage in Turkey, the recent outrages upon foreign-ers committed by Turkish brigands and demand for indemnity for such outrages brought by the German and French ambassadors represent ing the powers whose subjects have suffered by this lawlessness. The Sultan, it appears, complained of the inefficient measures taken by the Ministry to suppress brigandage and it is understood that an energetic campaign will be opened immediately with the view of suppressing the lawlessness complained of, garrison. Both the Germans and French are using smokeless powder, and the old powder appears to have been discarded or at least relegated to use in fighting the savages of Africa, where the noise is a potent factor in successful combat. The Germans have stood the marching well, and it is perhaps of some interest in view of the troubled condition of European affairs that long marching has so far been the chief feature of the maneuvers. Catholic power, presumably Austria, having sounded the College of Cardinals on the tion of a non-Italian Pope, ascertain that a large majority of the Cardinals are de-termined to elect an Italian Pope.

THE DARDANELLES QUESTION.

The Post, commenting on the Dardanelles question, protests against the idea of the powers desiring to make a cat's paw of England. "If any change in the situation is pecessary," says the Post, "it should be done or concerted action. Certainly, England acuid be bound to protest against the passage of the Russian men-of-war through the Dar-lanelles, but so far no treaty rights have been violated." SPAIN'S TREATY WITH AMERICT. A FINANCIAL RUMOR.

A report is current that the Banquel de Paris has offered Russia a loan of £12,000,000 at 4 per cent. The Times says that negotiations for a loan of such magnitude could hardly be entered upon if the warlike rumors lately circulated were credited in the regions of haute finance;

ON THE RUSSO-AUSTRIAN FRONTIER.

VIENNA, Sept. 4.—The Russian villages near the Russo-Austrian frontier are thronged with soldiers. The frontier guards, who used to be merely gendarmes to prevent smuggling, have given place to whole regiments permanently quartered at every available truncing and the street when two the consultance of the cars grazed Heistein in turn. Heistein lodged a complaint with the Vice-Consul and Inonic with the Japanese Procurator. Inonic stated he was struck by the latter, although he had hitherto taken no part in the affair. He then retailed on finding himself covered with high sown blood.

CERTICISING THE GOVERNMENT.

A STREET ENCOUNTER.

The paper states that a personal encounter, which occurred on the streets of Tokio, Aug. 20, between J. F. Heistein, an European, and one lanonic Sorakischi, will probably furnish further irritation against foreign ers. According to one statement Heistein was passing along the street when two boatment and the discussion, whereupon Heistein struck him over the head with a cane. He struck Heistein in turn. CRITICISING THE GOVERNMENT.

A Japanese paper makes an attack on the imperial post-office department, alleging careless handling of the mails. It states that complaints have been received from all parts of the Empire concerning lost letters. The paper also intimates that the privacy of mails had not been regarded. Comments of the mative press on the fact that the salaries of the Cabinet Ministers have never been reduced in the same manner as the other employes still continue. It now appears, the papers say, that the Ministers have had an allowance of about $100,000 per ainum from the Emperor's privy purse.

TAX RIOTS.

Riots on a small scale have taken place at Akoshi, caused by the dissatisfaction of the natives with the proceedings of the Municipal Assemply in the matter of taxes.

XEMSPAPERS SUPPRESSED.

A native paper gives a list of eleven papers, the publication of which have been suspended between July 6 and Aug. 2 by order of the Government. Three of these were published at the capital. One was suspended as being detrimental to public manners and the others as menacing the peace of the country.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 4.-The Overand (Los Angeles) Express was held up by two masked men a few miles south of Mo desto at 8:45 last night. The robbers boarded the train at Ceres and compelled Engineer Neff and Fireman Wallace to extinguish the headlight and fill the boiler with water. Then they made them get down and go to the express car and order it opened. Conducor Roche and Brakeman Fox were in the ront car, and they at once went out on the platform and looked out of the east side of the car. At sight of the conductor's lantern one of the robbers called out for them to go back, firing a shot at them. The conducto set his lantern back and fired two shots at Harris got out of the car on he west side and walked up toward where the robbers, who had gone over to that side of the express car, were. When about two car lengths from the express car Harris opened fire with a revolver, sending two shots in their direction. The robbers returned the fire, firing three shots, all of which took effect, hitting Harris in the neck and over the left eye. THE HUNTSVILLE TRAGEDY.

CONFESSION BY ONE OF THE MEN HELD FOR THE MORERLY, Mo., Sept. 4.—Early on the morning of Aug. 10 Will Viley, a young colored man, was murdered and his dead body found on the edge of the depot platform at Huntsville. Tom Romans and Cal Denny were both held for the murder after the Coroner's inquest. On instructions from Prosecuting Attorney Wiley Romans was released. Denny is in the Huntsville jall, charged with murder in the first degree. He has just made a statement to Sheriff Dameron, clearing himself and implicating Tom Vivian. The parties mentioned were with other young colored men in Moberly. They all got drunk, quarreled in the train, and when they got to Huntsville the deed was committed by one of them, the weapon used being a coupling-pin, or link. Viley's skull was crushed in. He was left weltering in his blood, while the murderer or murderers escaped in the dark. The trial of the case will come up next week at the regular term of the Randoiph Circuit Court, to be held at Huntsville, Judge Hockaday presiding.

SWINDLED BY AN INDIAN.

SEDALIA, Mo., Sept. 4.—J. Downing, a half-breed from the Cherokee Nation, whose Indian name is Teska-Ta-Watta, arrived here last Saturday to buy, as he claimed, a carload of young bulls for his ranch in the nation. Dr. M. T. Collins treated him for a softening of the brain at the hotel. He told the doctog that his ranch covered 2,000 acres and required a large force to work it. He owes Dr. Collins $50 yet. Monday he visited Locust Grove farm and related the story of his wealth. He bought seven young bulls, and gave John R. Gentry a check for $500 on the First National Bank of Arkansas City, which has been returned dishonored. J. M. Omeid cashed a bogus $30 check. Kaiser & Fisher lost $15 in the same way. Downing left town Wednesday and has not been seen since. SWINDLED BY AN INDIAN.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 4.—Revenue agents returned yesterday from the chase after Bob Sims, the Choctaw County moonshiper. They discovered and destroyed an eighty-gallon still which he was operating near Womac, Ala. Ten families of followers of Bob Sims in his peculiar religious belief have been chased away from their homes by the residents of the vicinity where they lived. The most notable thing which the officers found about the Sims home was the uniform cleanliness. The officers ascertained that the real same of the leader of these people is not Sims, but Robert McMillan. He managed to wade the officers.

Governor is resting from the fatigue of his journey preparatory to a trip to the seashore. Although on the orders of his physician he was not allowed to leave his room, a steady stream of callers poured in on him all the morning, most of whom he received. In an interview to-day the Governor said:

"My sole object in coming East is to go to the sea shore to rid myself of asevers attack of malaria which has affected my entire system. Until I started on this trip I was confined to my room for three weeks, and have thus far been unable to take any part in the campaign. I will, however, open my canvass on the 17th of this month. The leading feature of the campaign is the tariff. The people of Ohio are holding Mr. McKinley responsible for his bill, and the sentiment of the State is decidedly against it. He would be glad to dodge the issue, and is using the question of free colnage with a great deal of skill in order to obscure the real issue and draw away the fire from the measure of which he is the father. The tariff has had the effect of raising prices in some instances, and is generally regarded as an oppressive measure. The fact that crops are good and that farmers will get good prices for them, which has been heraledd by the Republican papers as favorable to Republican success, is an argument that will be used against them this year."

ROUMANIA'S ROMANCE.

Mile. Vacarescu at Last Leaves Her Royal Mistress. BUCHAREST, Sept. 4 .- Mile. Vacarescu has

and the King has started to join the Queen.

So is added another chapter to the sad love affair of Carmen Sylva's beautiful maid. Mile. Vacarescu was the Queen of Roumania's maid in waiting and bosom companion as well. She assisted the royal poetess in her literary labors and led a happy life. But the adopted Crown Prince, young Ferdinand, fell desperately in love with her. The courtship went along smoothly enough for awhile, for it had the sanction of the Queen, but when the matter became known to the King he and his Ministers gave the Prince the choice of giving up Vacarescu or resigning his right of succession to the throne. Hope of a crown finally prevailed and Ferdinand abandoned the side of the fair young maid of honor. To guard against a possible change of mind on the part of the Prince it was determined that Mile. Vacarescu should leave the Queen's service. To this Carmen Sylva demurred and to avoid the pressure brought to bear to effect this object at the Roumanian Court, the Queen and her maid have for some time been staying in Venice. A few weeks ago upon learning that young Ferdinand had gone to England in search of a bride, the disconsolate Vacarescu attempted to end her troubles with a poniard, but was prevented by the timely intervention of the Queen. The cablegram from the Roumanian capital today indicates that at last the royal will has been obeyed. The maid consents to leave her mistress and bid adieu to Ferdinand. and the King has started to join the Queen.

Peculiar Situation Caused by the Lack of Logs—Prices Advanced.

CHICAGO, III., Sept. 4.—A dispatch from Superior, Wis., says: The early closing down of all lumber mills at the head or the lake is probable. The cause is lack of logs in the aminicon and Middle Rivers. There are 12,-000,000 feet of logs belonging to three mills here hung up. The trouble is peculiar. Early in the spring the logs were frozen together In the spring the logs were frozen together solidly in streams and were not thawed until the spring freshets passed and the stage of water became too low to raft. A great many men will be thrown out of employment as the capacity of the mills is over a quarter million a day each. All companies having logs south of Lake Superior will be affected and lumber prices will advance materially.

For some months past there has been an evident determination, not only with the local yards, but at all points along the Upper Mississippi River, to add to the price of common lumber. This was done to day, the advance being from 50 cents to 51 per thousand feet. There is no surplus of common stock here or elsewhere as far north as 8t. Paul. This condition of affairs, together with low water troubles, which prevents the free movement of logs and lumber, has made an increase an absolute necessity.

FIGHT TO A FINISH.

The Retail Druggists Adopt Beroic Measures to Stop Cutting.

The cutting or "anti-combine" druggists, as they term themselves, are watching for further developments in the crusade of the association dealers against them. The inter-State organization perfected at yesterus, convention makes no concealment of its plans. It is organized chiefly to suppress the dealers who sell below schedule prices, and the members are pledged to boycott every wholesale dealer and jobber who gives food and comfort to the enemy in the way of supplies. A strict watch is to be kept on the wholesale dealers and when any of them are caught selling to anti-Association retailers, the order for the largest will be sent out officially from head-

J. Raboteau, one of the principal cutting dealers said, this morning: "I don't see how they are going to find out who gives us our supplies unless they put private detectives to work. They can just go ahead, do what they please, and if they draw the lines too closely on us we may try the courts for a remedy. So far as the Association is concerned, I hope if will last, and as long as it does the cutters will not be short of all the trade they want."

J. A. W. Fernow, representing the Association, speaking of its plans to cut off the supplies of the cutters, denied that there was any intention on the part of the organisation, to employ private detectives to ascertain what manufacturers and jobbers were selling such dealers. "We will, of course, keep a sharp lookout, and when we ascertain who the offending dealers are we will, of course, make examples of them. Our Association has agreed to discontinue the sale of any proprietary article if the manufacturer supplies it to the cutting dealers. It is only a question of a short time when these cutters will get back to schedule prices and become members of the Association."

LABOR NEWS.

The Canadian Trades and Labor Council-

QUEBEC, Sept. 4.—At a meeting yesterday of the Trades and Labor Council of the Domminion of Canada, the following officers were elected: President, Urbain La Fontaine, Montreal; Vice-President, Geo. T. Baeles, Toronto; Secretary and Treasurer, George W. Dower, Toronto, and an Executive Board. Resolutions were adopted condemning State aided immigration, asking for the prohibi-tion of Chinese immigration, for the appointment of female factory inappointment of female actory in-spectors and for the Government to reimburse for their losses the sufferers by the Quebec City land slide in 1889, which they have hitherto refused to do, claiming that the damage was done by the act of God. They also ask legislation in favor of an eight-hou working day and demand that all railways and telegraphs be controlled by the Government and all water works, gas and electric lights, telephone and street car industries by the municipalities in which the same are sit-

HANGED IN EFFIGY.

Cemperance Lecturer Holt Creates Great Excitement at Aurora, Mo.

AURORA, Mo., Sept. 4 .- Col. C. J. Holt, the Illinois temperance agitator, has just arrived from Seneca, Mo., where he has been raising sheel. The W. C. T. U. here have employe him four nights and also to give his copy righted chalk talk lecture, "Chicago by Gas light." He will then go to Mt. Vernon, Mo. and lecture there and help the W. C. T. U. close three blind tigers in that place. The citizens here, fearing that we would go through a reign of terror like Seneca, Mo., is experiencing, hung him in effigy on the public square on a regular built scaffold with a legal hangman's knot. Filling the pockets of the effigy with old musty beer bottles, playing cards, tobacco and old clay pipes, pinning a placard on his breast with the ineffigy with old musty beer bottles, playing cards, tobacco and old clay pipes, pinning a placard on his breast with the inscription: "Col. C. J. Holt died because he was an old-time drunkard, an ample prevaricator and a disturber of our personal liberty. Done by the Order of the Sons of Liberty. No. 303." Hundreds of people going to see the effixy, when it was ordered to be cut down by the City Marshal. There were placards put up all over town with pictures of coffins, pistols, bowle-knives, sticks of dynamite, skull and cross-bones, nest of eggs, scaffold and hangman's knots. There is already quite an excitement as the placards say he must leave town, and people do not know what will be the outcome.

Mrs. Francis A. Sheldon is the leader of the W. C. T. U. at this place, and she puts her foot down and says the ladies here will not do any unlawful acts, but will try and enforce the Sunday law against the six licensed saloons. Col. Holt is drawing a crowded house every night, and last night standing-room was at premium; 200 persons came forward and signed his pledge. He is causing more excitement here than any man who ever lectured in this city.

A Probability That the British Government Will Be Sued.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4 .- There is a strong probability that the British Government will be called upon to make good the damage done to a portion of the valuable cargo of the steamship Eldorado of the Morgan Line, which met with a disaster recently in the Bahamas, by the wreckers of the Bahama Islands. These wreckers, who are little beter than pirates, swarmed over the Eldorado as she lay helpless on one of the Bahama shoals, tried to haul down the American flag, which fiew at her mast head, and were with difficulty restrained from taking possession of her. The only means of saving the ship and cargo from them was to give them permission to break out a portion of the cargo and load it on their schooners. After they had removed a good deal of the merchandise they refused to deliver it on board the steamer New York at the port of Bimini, and Capt. Byrne of the Eldorado was obliged to take their word that they would land it at Nassau. The character of the wreckers is a good guarantee that none of the cargo which was intrusted to their care will be accounted for. which met with a disaster recently in the

for.

At this time of the year communication between Nassau and this port is necessarily slow and the Southern Pacific, which operates the Morgan Line, is unable to determine as yet the loss it has sustained at the wreckers' hands. Mr. Chas. T. Weed, the wreckers' accounts and yesterday they he ckers' hands. Mr. Chas. T. weed, the pany's counsel, said yesterday they had aloyed counsel in Nassau to look after the pany's interest, but he had not received less from him as yet relative to the mat. The wreckers claim the protection of British flag, and it is asserted by many the British Government ought to be reasible for their treatment of the crews vessels of other countries that meet with lortune in Bahaman waters.

In order to hasten the end in view, it is quite possible that the rebels may embroil themselves with workers in the cause of Christianity, but the underlying motive is assuredly to bring about a general revolution in the hope that the tartar rulers may be deposed and the Chinese themselves hold sway once more.

A Wu Chang correspondent, writing to the North China News under date of Aug. 3, says the patience of the foreign population is well nigh worn out at the tardiness shown by the Chinese officials in punishing the perpetrators of the Wu Such outrages. A second batch of offenders, eight in number, have been convicted of murder, assault and pillage, and sentences of penal servitude for life, banishment for life and branding on the face and back have been imposed.

The correspondent says the prime incentive to the riots at Wu Such, as elsewhere, were placards agrinst foneigners, which had been scattered broadcast. At 9 o'clock to 9:30 it was probably at its worst, rivers of water inundating the concession and a perfect sea got upon the promenade, while breakers struck Hyogo Hotel with heavy thuds, finally breaking through the wall and flooding the lower rooms.

Nickel's steam launch was thrown bodily over the sea wall, while the Helene Rickmers broke from her moorings and drove up high and dry near the Custom-house.

The bund presented a scene of indescribable confusion, the sea wall being entirely demolished and blocks of granite and big pieces of timber lying scattered all about, mingled with chests of tea and remnants of junks. Lighters containing coal were broken to bits, while in Camber junks and lighters were piled on each other in frightful wreckage. One junk came ashore over the native bund just below the hotel.

The partner has never reported, nor has the one who showed up for the little Sabbfits transaction in eggs and chickens, and their store is still locked up. All it contains is a safe and a type-writer, which are believed to have been bought on the installment plan. The sudden disappearance of Hall Bros. has caused considerable comment and speculation among the other commission firms of North Third street.

According to stories on North Third street, the firm has been doing business on the supposably disastrous plan of promising to pay high prices to the country shippers, and then selling the produce shipped on such representation at a price below its actual market quotations. In consequence of this state of affairs developments in the case of Hall Bros. are now being anxiously awaited.

THERE METHOD OF BUSINESS.

The missing firm began its career on North Third street just a little over three weeks ago under the name of Hall Bros. as it appeared on their billheads and dray tickets. But there was no sign of any description above the door of 120 North Third street. The store was rented from the Hammett-Anderson-Wade Real Estate Co., which demanded and obtained rent paid in advance to Sept. 1. The two members of the firm were both young men, and stated to the neighboring merchants that they came from the Rast. The only employe which the firm based was a young lady typewriter, to whom, it is learned, they paid the temporisting salary of $1 per day, and who seems to have earned every cent of it for the time the firm boasted was a young lady typewriter, to whom, it is learned, they paid the temporisms such as the only one on the premises who did any work, but she did enough for all three. After the first few days, however, shipment began to pour in on the new firm unfil the older merchants marveled at their extent. As fast as the shipments, principally of eggs and chickens, were received by expr Waltering of 1254 North Third street, he sold out those shipments. Eggs were then worth 15½ cents per dozen, and he sold them at 12½ cents. Chickens were quoted at 11½ cents, and he sold them at 9 cents. On both sales he collected the cash and put 'it in his pocket, then locking up his store he gave the key to Mr. Waltering, saying that his partner would get in Monday morning.

THE AIR SHIP HURT.

Pennington Says That the Mythical Ascension Injured It.

WILL NOT FLY, THEREFORE, FOR SEVERAL DAYS.

The Inventor Becomes Hard Up and Gives St. Louis Men a Mortgage on Property He Says Is Worth $100,000 to Secure a Loan of $5,000-More Absurdities of the Aerial Humbug. Mr. Pennington has found another excuse for not making him promised flight in the airship out at the Fair Grounds. The excuse is that the machine was so badly hurt by the ascension Saturday night that it will take several days to repair it. The grotesqueness of the explanation lies in the fact that the ascension which so seriously damaged the aerial creature is that mysterious one which was seen by only the showman and his confidential employes, and was made, according to their stories, at several hours of the night and in a number of widely differing ways. Nevertheless, Pennington is standing pat on that story to-day. and he and his trusty employes are seen pottering about the aluminum chamber of the canvas, surrounded by the whole array of cheap machinery, and white and blue carboys and other things laid around the tent in artistic confusion to impress the ignorant visitor. PENNINGTON'S BORROWED MONEY. Possibly no one would have heard of Pen-nington's last tale of woe, and everybody would have gone on believing that the air ship was not soaring simply because Pennington didn't know how to make it fly, but sington didn't know how to make it fly, but for a visit made to the Fair Grounds this morning by Mr. W. H. Woodward, President of the Woodward & Tiernan Printing Co., on Third street. Mr. Woodward was interested in a mortgage which was filed yesterday in the office of Recorder Hobbs. The mortgage was from the Mt. Carmel Aeronautic Navigation Co. to W. J. Abbott, as trustee, to secure the payment of a note for $5,500. It covers all the airship property, as follows: One large air ship. One small air ship. One aluminum engin

Pennington was interviewed by a reporter and said the mortage was to draw a loan that had been made to him through Mr. Woodward. That gentleman had not intend-

Woodward. That gentleman had not intended to take any such steps to secure his debt until the Post-Distance related the facts about the alleged ascension.

"Then Mr. Woodward became alarmed," said he, "and asked for security, which we gave him. I am surprised that any newspaper should attempt to obstruct a purely scientific enterprise. The airship at the Fair Grounds is being constructed by my company alone. The Fair Grounds people have not contributed I cent toward it, nor do we expect I cent for its exhibition, because no adexpect I cent for its exhibition, because no admission fee to see it will be charged. It is a purely scientific venture, of the ultimate success of which there can be no doubt."

Mr. Pennington added that his company had expended over $100,000 in making the

Mr. Fennington auded that his company had expended over $100,000 in making the matter a success.

HOW THE LOAN WAS MADE.

Mr. Woodward has made a number of trips to the Fair Grounds since Pennington put up his tents and began blowing his trumpet. He became interested in the inventor during a trip to Chicago, where he saw the toy model flying around. Mr. Woodward is devoted to the interests of St. Louis and he is wealthy. He thought it would add to the crowds as that would come to the city this fall if he could get the airship to fly about the Fair Grounds. He talked with Pennington, and that gentleman, represented to him he could make a big flying machine that would carry several people and promised to do it if he was advanced the money needed for expenses. Mr. Woodward believed him and Pennington got the money.

papers would be satisfied. That ascension is causing all this delay now. He makes a mistake in not telling the newspapers the real reason why he can't make the ship fly just yet. The chamber was damaged by getting it in the tent again after the ascension. He showed me this morning how it was damaged. In order to repair the injury he will have to get into the bouyancy chamber and that will take some time. I think he will have it all into the bouyancy chamber and that will take some time. I think he will have it all fixed by sunday."

Mr. Woodward was asked if he was satisfied with the security for his debt afforded by the lot of machinery mentioned in the mortgage. He said that according to his agreement with Pennington the airship was to be exhibited before the Fair began, and a fee charged to visitors. "If it is exhibited, and I think it will be," said Mr. Woodward, "we will get back our money. We agreed with Mr. Pennington that nothing should be charged during the Fair. That will show our public spirit in the matter."

PENNINGTON'S CONTRADICTIONS.

Mr. Woodward's talk shows him to be a very charitable man. It might naturally be supposed that he, of all men, would have been invited by Pennington to see that famous midnight ascension which the showman says he made, but he was not given the least hint that it would occur. His conversation shows that while he is ready to think the best of Pennington and to go all lengths in helping him to carry out his promises, his confidence is weakening and the filing of the mortgage shows, too, the way the wind is blowing.

Pennington tells a reporter that no admission fee to see the airship will be charged. Mr. Woodward's interview shows that he had contracted to repay the money he had borrowed by fees from the curious.

A PETTY RUMBUG.

The scientific magazines prove well enough that Pennington's talk about his 'scientific experiments' are nonsense. They look upon him pretty much as they regard the circus canvasmen who go up in a ho-tair balloon. The magazines have been filled with articles about aerial navigation lately, and the writers have ransacked the world for material. A respectable airship would have and the writers have ransacked the world for material. A respectable airship would have been seized on with eagerness. But there is not an allusion to Pennington or his aluminum balloon. If he were believed to be even sincere in his pretensions he would be taken charge of by scientists, and would get the money to carry on his experiments, but his behavior everywhere has been that of a showman with a catchpenny device to draw an ignorwith a catchpenny device to draw an ignor wrence Algernon Kingsley on Trial This Afternoon.

A motion to quash the information in the case of Mrs. Lawrence Algeron Kingsley was filed in the Court of Criminal Correction this and E. W. Bannister. The attractive young promptly with her legal advisers, to Southern Hotel of $100 in board and confident of winning her case," As to the charge of fraud, Mr. Adams claimed the warrant did not state specifically the facts. The lady went to the hotel on July 31, and a week later promised to pay her board every two weeks, but the manager board every two weeks, but the manager a greed to allow her one month. She did not pay anything at the end of three weeks and the manager locked her room door and kept the key. She visited the hotel twice a day for a week after being put out for letters she expected from the East and, receiving none, she discontinued her visits. When she became associated with Lord Harrington the Southern Hotel manager secured a warrant for fraud. Mr. Rowland this morning styled this as an attempt to use the criminal courts to collect a civil debt, and criminal courts to collect a civil debt, and argued that the lady was not guilty of fraud, but that she had promised and intended to pay her bili, and that if allowed the time first given her she would have paid it.

Mr. Adams in presenting the motion to quash said information did not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action because it did not aver that the alleged trick or fraud was perpetrated by defendant, because it was not specific in its charge, and because the warrants did not state that tion alleged sumicient facts to constitute a cause of action.

Mossrs. Rowland and Bannister then asked that a jury be ordered for the case and have is tried this afternoon. The case was set for 20 clock.

It will be the first case tried under the new law, which many consider unconstitutional in that it protects hotel keepers from loss while tailers, shoemakers, hatters and clothlers and other people have no law of the kind to aid them in collecting bad debts. The Constitution of the State declares that no one shall be imprisoned for debt and the attorneys in this case claim the arrest and imprisonment of Mrs. Kingsley was nothing more than that.

The decision of the judges in the three-minute trot at the Fair yesterday almost caused a riot. There were nine starters, among which deorge Vest, a St. Louis horze, and Willis, owned at Behton, Ill., showed superiority. George Vest won the first two heats, and the third was declared off on a foul. Willis won the next two, and the following heat was also deciared off. The judges ordered the two leaders to trot one heat for first place, and George Vest was declared the winner, but popular sympathy awas with the Benton forse, and the specialors crowded around the stand, vehemently protesting against the decision on the last heat, which had been very close, the horses being lapped from start to finish. Attention was called to the fact that the territory is building up very rapidly, but that the lack of public improvements was retarding its development very much. After a further discussion of these and the shallow of the shallow machine. H. E. Sterling had taken out a replevin against J. Gates of 806 North Seventh street. Sterling alleged that he gave the machine to a customer on trial and said that the next he heard of it was when it got into the hands of Gates, who, Sterling states, obtained it in some way from the customer. The constable put the papers in his pocket and went to Gates, who, see a tendency of the papers in his pocket and went to Gates house, at 806 North Seventh street. He heard some mutterings from one of the parties on the way, but he was unprepared for the reception that he met. A large crowd gathered around him at the door and followed him into the house. There they closed around him when he attempted to take the machine, and it looked as if he would have a fight for it. But he finally managed to elbow his way through the angry gathering, and with the help of Mr. Sterling he put the machine in the wagon and drove off in spite of the threats that flew thick and fast around and about him.

Inflicted by the dread Torquemada have abominable prototyes in the shape of chronic rheumatism and neuralgia. Attack these agonizing complaints before they reach the chronic stage with the superb blood depurent, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which will assuredly expel their virus from the life stream. To procrastinate is to encourage the growth of inciplent rheumatism, which rapidly tightens its grip upon the system. It is the very octopus of diseases, and painful indeed is the clasp of its dreadful tentacles. Be prompt, therefore, take time by the forelock, always remembering that both rheumatism and gout, close relatives, are dangerous as well as painful. Debility, chills and fever, bilious remittent, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, nervousness and kidney disease succumb to the Bitters. Appetite and the ability to sleep well are improved by it.

ROBERT LOUIS STRVENSON, the famou novelist, describing his experiences and observations in the Gilbert Islands, will appear in the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH of next Sunday. There is no more fascinating writer living than Mr. STEVENSON, whose powers of imagination and charm of style captivate the reader. His residence in Samoa gives him fine opportunity to glean interesting information about these distant islands of the Pacific and their inhabitants. This series, therefore, cannot fail to afford great pleasure to SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH readers. Another most interesting feature of the paper will be a letter about Mashonaland from Lord RANDOLPH CHURCHILL, who is now on a our of observation in South Africa, and whose correspondence from there has created widespread interest. In addition there will be humorous sketches by M. Quad and a host of other bright special leatures. The news record of the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH is ample guarantee that this department will be as complete as exceptional facilities and wide-awake enterprise can make it. The great and rapidly ncreasing circulation of the paper shows that the public know good Sunday reading when they see it, and that they look to the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH for it.

A little sail into the ocean solitudes with Secretary FOSTER might expedite the recovery of Mr. BLAINE's health, and result in an understanding which would end the excruciating suspense of the man in the White House, who sees nothing but the all-absorbing Blaine boom in his way, and knows that BLAINE alone can put it out of

Some light is thrown on the question as the whom protection does not protect by the news that the cotton manufacturers whose industry is specially favored by the McKinley law have determined to reduce the wages of their workmen.

In conclusion, permit me to suggest that you bring this matter before the directors, and should the plan receive their official sanction that you give it the usual Post-Dis-Parcil boom and "cheer it unto the Echons."

Two Senators in the Tennesses Legisla THE WORLD'S PAIR. NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 4.—"You are an afamous liar," came the hot retort in the

of the National Commission

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 5 .- At the opening sei this morning a communication from Presi-dent Baker of the local fair corporation ask-Senators almost in front of the Chairman's stand. The gavel smote upon the marble siab; order was restored and the two belligerents, Senators Alexander and Early, after reflecting a little, were sorry that the scene had been created, both made concessions, apologized to the Senate and to one another and like brave men made friends. The trouble arcse in a debate brer a resolution by Mr. Alexander, providing that a reward be offered for the apprehension and conviction of Messrs. Irish, Ingraham, Merrill and Hamaker, the committee from the insurgent miners of Briceville, on the ground that they had incited lawlessness and rebellion against the authority of the State.

The exciting episode served to divert attention from the other proceedings of the session to some extent, and the House resolution appointing a committee to investigate the alleged incendiary conduct of Commissioner of Labor Ford and Representative Alleman, and the House resolution appointing the House resolution deciring the General Assembly powerless to abrogate the lease, were adopted, the latter with an amendment, without creatings rippie. Under other circumstances, a flery debate would, no doubt, have been called forth by both measures. ing the co-operation of the National Com-mission in securing a loan of $5,000,000 from repaid out of the first receipts, and a resolution of the Executive Committee of the Commission indorsing the request, was read and referred to the Committee on Judiciary. Commissioner Towsley of Minnesota presented a resolution to the effect that the resolution heretafore passed for the appointment of a committee to recommend certain modifications.

olution heretofore passed for the appointment of a committee to recommend certain modifications of the tariff law in the interests of the Exposition, be reconsidered and expunged from the minutes. In speaking of his resolution Mr. Towsley said that the rules of the Treasury Department provided for the whole work which it was proposed for the committee to do in the matter of the admission of goods intended for exhibition at the Fair. This action of the commission, he said, was liable to missonstruction, it had been publicly misconstructed as an attack by the commission on the McKinley law. Furthermore, it would put the commission at odds with Congress and would interfers with its work in securing the proposed & Mol. Onloan for the Fair.

Commissioner Harris of Virginia, the author of the resolution which it was proposed to rescind, said the resolution was not aimed at the McKinley law; R would apply alike to the old tariff law or to the Mills bill, had it become a law. The resolution was had it become a law. The resolution was entirely non-political; its object was merely to relieve foreign exhibitors of unjust bur sidered by a vote of 32 yeas to 22 nays, and it was referred to the Committee on Legislation after Commissioner Waller of Connecticut had made a speech deprecating the political turn which the matter had taken in the public press and in the commission. He declared that no politics were thought of when the resolution was passed and said that when the Democrats got ready to fight the McKinley law they would do it openly, not under cover of an insignificant resolution. A resolution pledging the commission to take up and consider the Sunday closing question as soon as it should properly come before that body was unanimously passed.

The Auditing Committee presented its report, showing an estimated excess of expenses by the commission for the year ending July 1 next over the appropriation of $28,000. In order to avoid this the committee recommended that the April meeting of the committee be postponed till July; that the pay-roll of the Director-General be reduced by $3,000; that the salaries of $5,000 each of President of the Commission and the Vice-Chairman of the Executive Committee be discontinued after Oct. 1.

Vice-Chairman mcKenzie of Kentucky said that the reports seemed to be aimed at him; it appeared that there was a conspiracy to eliminate him from the commission. This was unnecessary, as in his own good time he would eliminate himself. The whole trouble was that he had refused to sanction a report of the Financial Committee which he had not had an opportunity to see. The report was referred to the Committee on By-Laws and the commission adjourned till 2 o'clock this afternoon.

NATIONAL TUBE WORKS.

Conselidation of Four Six from and susset.

New York, Sept. 4.—A genuine surprise was sprung on Wall street last evening. It was in the form of an announcement that the papers had just been signed by which four of the largest iron and steel works in the country had combined and had formed a new corporation under the laws of the State of New Jersey. The name of the new corporation is the National Tube Works. The capital stock is $11,800,600, of which half its preferred cumulative stock and the remainder common. The companies comprising the corporation are the National Tube Works of Boston, the Republic Iron Works of Pettsburg, the Monongabe in Iron Co. of Pennsylvania and the Boston Iron & Steel Co. of Boston. The different companies manufacture iron and steel tubes for water, gas and oil, drills for oil and natural gas wells, muck bar hooms, terne plates and various other fron implements. The oid National Tube works of Boston was the largest concern of its kind in the world. Its capital stock was only $5,000,000, but the market value per share at the time of the consolidation was $500. It employed 10,000 men and had large works at McKeesport, Pa.; in fact, it may be said to own that two. It has paid 19 per cent divisors for many years. It was announced last evening by an officer of the new company that several other iron and steel concerns will go into the combination. Among the outside

COUNT OF BULLING'S PLEAS.

SAVANNAH, Mo., Sept. 4.-When the hands of the clock indicated the hour of 2, this af-ernoon, the trap on the gallows was sprung and Louis Bulling explated his many crimes.
There was no blunder in the official management of the execution and no horrible scane attending the carrying out of the sen-tence of the Court. The gallows had been erected in the jail yard and a company of militia did guard duty since yesterday. The original hour set for the execution was 7:30 this morning. When the time arrived and Builting was told to prepare for death his appeals for pity and a postponement of the awful moment that he might again be permitted to see his mother, so wrought upon the Sheriff that he decided to grant the doomed man's request. The execution was accordingly prespond man's grant the doomed man's request. The execution was accordingly postponed until 9:30 o'clock. It was known that Bulling's mother had gone to Jefferson City to plead for commutation of the sentence or for time—anything to lengthen the days of her worthiness son, but to her again the darling boy of long ago. Mrs. Bulling did not arrive by 9:30, and in response to Bulling's pleas the hanging was again postponed—this time to 2 p. m. Before this hour was reached the loyal mother of the prisoner had arrived from the capital, and, as was expected, the Governor had declined to interfere.

When instead of a reprisve Sheriff Charles Mitchell and William Daken, came to his cell at a few minutes before 2 o'clock to prepare for the scanfold, he burst into tears and fell in a fit. Dr. Jefferles was hurriedly summoned and in a few moments restored the man to consciousness. Preparations were made to execute the death sentence a few minutes past 2 o'clock, at which time Hulling was strong enough to ascend the scaffold, and the sentence of the court was carried out.

The life of Louis Builling has been marked by many crimes. According to his own confession he has been a desperate character, and for years has been haunted by the fears of arrest for his many transgressions. He first came under the notice of the officers of the law through his connection with a tragedy at Pittsburg, Pa., several years ago, in which two men were killed. He escaped conviction in this case, and was next heard of in this State, when the crime for which he was hanged to day was committed. He deserted his wife in the summer of 1888 and took up with another woman. The abandoned wife sought employment at the Hebert House in Savannah. For some cause, which has never been explained, Builing gained access to her room on the night of Jan. 29, 1885, and with an ax almost severed her head from her body and otherwise mutilated the remains in a horrible manner. For this crime he was tried and sentenced to be hanged on March 6 last. The day before the execution he was respited to April 17, and on the night of the light of that month he escaped by cutting his way out of the Savannah jail.

A large reward was offered for his capture, the Pinkerton Agency put men on his trail, but their search was unsuccessful, His arrest was finally effected by the Chicago police after a desperate running fight with the murderer and the wounding of Builling in the arm. At the time, however, the police did not know the man they had in custody.

Builling had been in Chicago for some time under the alias of Louis May, sometimes going by the name of Dillinger. His identity was discovered the day after his capture, and he was once more placed in his old quarters in the Savannah (Mo.) jail.

On July 3, the night after his arrival at Asvannah, he attempted suicide by taking a dose of morphine, which he had by some

The following Monday the Crime was discovered by the finding of the body of the woman in the river. Frank fied from the city and was captured a few days later at his nother's, in Wilkes County. He confessed having committed the deed the day after his arrest to Rev. George Barnes, who told about Danforth's confession, and said Frank told him he did not care if they killed him, as his soul would go to heaven, and he never would deny Jesus. Frank did deny his guilt, however, and in view of the discrepancy Judge Twiggs asked the preacher if he did not think it was wrong to exercise spiritual influence to get a confession, and then tell it at the trial. The pastor declared that he had done nothing wrong. Danforth told him that on the evening of the killing he was walking home with his wife, when she stopped and left him on the street, and went with Frank Bussey, his rival. Danforth reproved her for going with Russey when they got home and she told him she would have Bussey as long as she wanted to, and he Danforth) would have to support her. Trafton, who was killed, plaintiff alleges, in a wreck on defendants road. The petition sets forth that on May 1, 1891, deceased took passage at Birmingham, Ala., on a freight train on defendants' road for St. Louis. Near a town called Bangor in ascending a steep grade more than two miles long, seven of the rear cars of the train, in one of which deceased was riding, broke loose but were stopped after descending a short distance. The rest of the train proceeded up the hill. About a mile further up the hill seven more cars broke loose and ran back and struck the seven which had first broke loose and the whole descended the grade, and collided with the engine of another train which was coming up the hill, causing a wreck in which plaintiff's husband it is alleged was killed.

He has been a resident of St. Louis for many years, having come here from Raltimore, Md., and during his long residence in this city has made many friends, who will be pained to hear of his death. Besides being a Knight of Pythias, Mr. Jones has been connected with all the crack military organizations of the city. The first company he enlisted with was old Company K, and served with them until they disbanded. Then he joined the Tredway Rifles and was with them through all their famous victories, and when they disbanded he connected himself with the Branch Guards, of which company he was a member at the time of his death. THE CHILIAN JUNEA SALUTED BY POREIGN VESSELS UPON THEIR AR-

ELYAL AT VALPARAISO.

VALPARAISO, Chili, Sept. 4.—The steamer Arequipa arrived at Valparaiso from Iquique last night with Senor Waldo Silva, Vice-President of the Senate, Senor Ramond Baros Luco, Speaker of the House of Representatives, who with Senor George Montt, comprise the Junta de Gobierno; Senor Errazuris, the provisional minister of foreign affairs and other prominent congressional leaders aboard. They were received with great enthusiasm. The British warship Champion dressed ship and manned the yards as the Arequipa entered the bay. A national salute was fired from the forts and at their landing the officials were greeted with music, fireworks and a parade.

The question of the disposition of the refugees has been definitely settled, and to-morrow the United States steamer Baitimore and a Garman man-of-war will leave for Peru with all the refugees aboard. A final conference was held aboard admiral Brown's flagship, the San Francisco, last night, and the question as to who should receive and who should not receive guarantees was discussed. The German and American admirals worked through their respective ministers at Santiago and were informed by them that the Junta would under no circumstances give any guarantees as to the recent president-elect, Clandio Vicuna, Senor Baurados, Occar Viel, Godoy, Peras

North.

The American and German war ships are closely watched day and night by the authorities, and this may have given rise to the talk in foreign circles that an effort might be made to prevent the sailing of the Baltimore and the German ships, and to take the refugees away from them by force. There is really no reason to believe that any such step is contemplated. All the newspaper supporters of the late Government are marked men and will have to leave the country if they can. This is particularly the case in regard to Maj. Herrara, who was Intendente Viel's paymaster and an editor of the Eslesia and Senor Lowenstein. They will probably be shot in short order if they are found. Senors Silva and Luco of the Junta and the other Congressional leaders left for Santiago this morning.

Triumphal Progress.

ITS FIRST AFTERNOON CONCERT AND

The second day of the Exposition brought with it the first afternoon opening, and with fall weather that would have tempted a hermit out of his cave all St. Louis was apparently bound for the Ex.'s double session. Ladies and children and visitors to the city are the ones most strongly appealed to by the afternoon Ex., and they were out in force yesterday. A splendid display and an exceptionally good musical programme awaited them, the result of which reception was a 'second popular verdict—a decision by daylight—that the Exposition of 1891 laid out all the seven preceding Expositions at one blow. The scene in the evening at the opening of the concert in Grand Music Hall was a pleasant repetition of the triumph of the first night. A large and brilliant crowd assembled at the Ex., beginning at 70'clock, and before 9 not only Music Hall but the entire Exposition Building was filled with throngs of delighted sight-seers. The displays met with unqualified approval both for their novelty and completeness, the Art Gallery was an animated scene all evening, and the two concerts gave pleasure to thousands of enthusiastic lovers of music.

gave pleasure to thousands of enthusiastic lovers of music.

The Exposition this year is developing a new favorite and a surprise that speaks well for St. Louis' appreciation of native talent. Director Vogel and his excellent band of local musicians are coming to the front in public favor in a way that promises the making of a brilliant record. Vogel's work has been somewhat in the line of a revelation to many. He has evidently done some masterly preparatory training, and the result is a finish and correctness in the rendition of the concert programmes that cannot fall to please the most exacting and which has already evoked significant praise from local critics. The opening number of last night's first part, the overture from "Semiramide," was admirably done, and followed by the saxophone solo of Bandman Louis Knittel, Singille's eighth air and variation, at once gained the favor of the second night's audience. In the second part the feature was the solo for two piecolos, "Les Fasevets." in which Messrs. Robert Buechel and Heary Lowe distinguished themselves and received a hearty encore. The "King of Yvetot" overture was also a most creditable number.

Miss Emma Berger was heard to far greater

Miss Emma Berger was heard to far greater advantage yesterday and last night than at the opening concert, and the great soprano has already established her position in public favor. The selections made by Miss Berger for yesterday were also particularly felicitous. Mendelssohn's concert aria was her first number in the afternoon, and the secend was the ever popular "I Dreamt I Dwelt in Marble Halls," from the old-time favorite, Baife's "Bohemian Girl." For the first part of the evening concert Miss Berger sang the waitr song from the "Merry War," and then made her most effective hit by an exquisite rendition of the soprano solo, "Tell Her I Love Her So." Every number from the clear-voiced Wisconsin singer was warming revoiced Wisconsin singer was warmly re-ceived, and several were encored with an enthusiasm that admitted of no denial.

Miss Marie McNeil and Mr. A. H. Knoll trumpeted their trumphant capture of all St. Louis hearts with great spirit and dash yesterday. There can be no doubt about the surrender of the public to those two artists. As soon es one of their numbers is reached on the programme the applause begins, and when they appear upon the stage it deepens into an ovation. The recalls are now a matinto an ovation. The recalls are now a matter of course, and Miss McNeil's solos are made the occasion of rapturous demonstrations in recognition of that graceful lady's somewhat unusual talent. Yesterday afternoon Miss McNeil and Mr. Knoil, for their regular numbers, gave Gatti's "Gil, Animali Parlaute, "arranged as a duet for cornets, and in the second part Knoil's own "Polka Brilliante." In the evening their first number was Knoil's air varie "Poor Uncle Rufe," and the second, Rossini's "Quis Est Homo." The accompaniment support given many of The accompaniment support given many of their selections by Vogel's Band is also worthy of favorable mention.

It looks now as though the great particular success of the Exposition of 1891 in the way of a special exhibit is to be scored by the Chinese and Japanese display. That collection, representing what has been called "the flower of the arts of China and Japan," seems to possess a never failing attraction for the public and one of the preciliarities is for the public, and one of its peculiarities is that if one once surrenders to a study of its that if one once surrenders to a study of its charms it is almost impossible to tear one's self away. The wealth of quaint beauty in the various cases containing the lacquers, the porcelains, bronzes and ivories, and the exceedingly cusious specimens of old arms and musical instruments, is of an extent that could hold the fascinated attention of Ex. visitors for hours. The room in which this display is made is The room in which this display is made is rapidly becoming one of the most popular places in the building. PESTIVITIES EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE An Important Meeting Held Leet Night-Advertising St. Louis.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Autumnal Pestivities Association was held last night, which was attended by the following gentlemen: President Sam. M. Kennard, Gov. E. O. Stanard, Rolla Wells, C. H. Sampson, R. M. Scruggs, Festus J. Wade, Dan S. Holmes, T. B. Boyd, L. D. Kingsland, N. H. Woodward, C. H. Turner, Goodman King, M. C. Wetmore, Jerome Hill, John S. Momit, John C. Wilkinson, Dr. J. J. Lawrence, J. J. Kreher, H. C. Townsend and Secretary Frank Galennie.

Mr. John S. Momitt, Chairman of the Finance Committee, submitted a satisfactory report. Mr. Momitt has already turned over a large sum to Treasurer Walker Hill. Mr. Momitt stated that many of the most liberal contributors to the illumination fund in former years had been absent from the city but were now just beginning to return from their summer trips. When he had gotten around to see them all he expected to realize a handsome sum in addition to the already magnificent contributions which he had secured.

Mr. Goodman King, Chairman of the Advertising Committee, submitted perhaps the most important report of the evening. Now that all arrangements are complete the next thing is to let the world know. "No city," said Mr. King, "of anything approaching the size of St. Louis has succeeded so magnificently in keeping its light hid under a bushel. Europeans visiting St. Louis and St. Louis ans returning from Eastern and European tours all tell us that while other cities of equal importance, and even smaller cities, are heard of frequently and regularly referred to in American and European journals, the bare existence of St. Louis is practically ignored, and the city is seldom mentioned. It is proposed to remedy this and to make the metropolis of the West recognized as such and duly appreciated both in America

A bureau of information will be established in a central location where visitors may call for any desired information.

Specimens of work already done by the committee were submitted, including news and society notes concerning St. Louis, published in papers in New York, Paris and London. Mr. King had made a tour of the offices of the New York dailies and found the managers willing to do justice to St. Louis provided the material was furnished them. In order that this branch of the business might be properly attended to the committee had secured the services of Mr. James Cox, a newspaper man of experience, to act as Secretary of the Advertising Committee. Mr. Cox was introduced and cordially received and his selecduced and cordially received and his selection ratified by the committee.

The name of the Advertising Committee was changed to "Bureau of Information of the Autumnal Association of St. Louis."

Mr. John S. Wilkinson, Chairman of the Illuminating Committee, reported the work of his committee completed, and received the congratulations of all present on the effective manner in which it had been done. Mr. M. C. Wetmore, chairman of the Hotel Committee, asked that the appropriation of $100,000 agreed upon to aid in building a $1,000,000 hotel be made, which was done, as also an appropriation asked by the Advertising Committee.

A SPLENDID SUCCESS.

Last Night's Illumination Viewed by Thousands-Two Hours of Brilliancy. The fliumination last night was an unqualifled success and was so declared by the thousands of people who came down town last night to see it. The people came down night to see it. The people came down early, many of them amusing themselves by gazing into the show windows until the lamps should be lighted. Then they made the circuit of the illuminated district and went home satisfied.

About 7 o'clock the lighting gangs went to work, at the end of each street a gang of men with long poles and torches, started out simultaneously, and within twenty minutes youth street Freedway. Olive street Wash.

Fourth street, Broadway, ington avenue and Twelfth street bore off the palm last night. The immense double row of arches thickly covered with colored globes looked like a sea of fire from a short distance away. The residents in the southern a part of the city who came down on the Twelfth street cars got the full benefit of the whole effect. The Liberty statue stood out in bold relief with her torch flaming over her head.

The collection for 1891 is complete and striking, and insures an art gallery success in line with the general triumph.

Washington avenue, with its graceful serving of gas and electric lights, was another charming sight. The illumination on this thoroughfare being down the middle of the street stood out most effectively. The gas designs were alternated at regular intervals by artistic arrangements of electric lamps, and the two kinds of lights blended alcely.

The report then goes on to set forth the plans decided on by the committee. The press and commercial agencies will be supplied with information and efforts made to induce them to treat St. Louis justify. Advertisements will be inserted in the local papers and leading journals of the larger cities, as also in the co-operative lists inviting people to witness the fail, festivities and other St. Louis attractions. Invitations will be extended to manufacturers and capitalists to locate and make investments here, and whenever it is learned that a manufacturer at another place is desirous of making a change, to communicate with him to the succession of clusters on the lamp-posts and a big arch at Four-teenth street came out more effectively than was expected, and the lights re-enforced by the immense crowds made a very brilliant showing. In fact, on all the lighted streets the people did much to bring out the full beauty of the scenes. No Need of an Investigation. It was reported yesterday that Councilman Cullinane, owing to his loyalty to the city administration, would use his influence to frustrate the proposed investigation of the management of the Mulianphy trust fund. When spoken to this moraing Councilman Cuilinane said he had heard nothing about the proposed investigation, and had certainly not made any attempt to suppress it. Councilmen Cole and Anderson had not broached the matter in the Council, and until they did he would take no action in the maiter. He added further that he did not think that any attempt would be made to stop the maiter, as the Mulianphy Board had no reason to fear an investigation.

MS AT ST. LOUIS AND ELSE

Friends of the Owner of the

The St. Louis pool rooms were hard hit by he victory of Mr. Bobert J. Lucas' horse, to suffer, the rooms at Louisville and Cincinnati and the books at the track all losing heavily on the race. It is estimated that at 8t. Louis alone the rooms lost $15,000 on the horse's victory. Of this amount nothing was won by Mr. Lucas himself and very little by his friends. Outsiders who had received the tip got all the money. Some stranger went into the pool rooms at Louisville and won $7,800. He won $5,000 of it at one place and $1,500 at another, and the room where he made his biggest win had to close for the day for lack of funds to continue business. It is believed in Louisville that the stranger is from St. Louis, but none of the friends of Mr. Lucas know anything of the man and it is pretty certain that the money he bet did not belong to the owner of the borse. Mr. Lucas is believed to have won something on the animal at the track, but if he had bet any money outside he would undoubtedly have sent it to this city. Even at the track he probably did not get much on his colt, as he makes it a rule never to back his horses until just before they go to the post, and there was such a hot tip out on Alfred E. that he was backed down at the track from 10 to 1 to 5 to 2. While there must have been in the neighborhood of $50,000 won on the horse, very little of it went to his owner.

Probably the biggest winning ever made in this country on a horse race was that made by George E. smith, better known as "Pittsburg Phil," on his colt King Cademus, who captured the Sapphire stakes at Sheepshead Bay yesterday. The colt, who had never won poolrooms and in rooms in the West. The money was placed both straight and place. The betting closed at 8 to 1 against the It is claimed that Phil won exactly $147,000 on the race and it is pretty certain that he won at least $100,000. Pittsburg Phil is the young Pittsburger who surprised the country a few years ago by his heavy betting and wonderful success. He is said to be worth $220,000, all made in playing the races. For the last couple of years he has been making books and also running a racing stable, but he continues to plunge heavily on the outside. One or two years he has lost enormously, but he is still far ahead of the game.

Mr. Joseph D. Lucas, owner of the Goodwood Stables, after winning $2,000 in purses with his horse Argenta at Garfield Park, Chicago, has sold the horse for that figure. Argenta finished first in four races up there, second in one and third in one. In his last race, a selling event, his stable had to pay $305 above his entered price to keep the horse, and immediately afterward sold the animal and immediately afterward sold the anima and immediately afterward sold the animal at private sale for $5,000. Argenta is a fine-looking horse and promises considerable speed, but is a little unruly at times. May Blossom is another of the Goodwood Stables' entries who has been winning at Chicago.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—The events at Sheepshead yesterday were rather exciting. Mr. Haggin, in compliance with the public demand, let Firensi start under protest. She was a hot favorite, but lost. Pittsburg Phil backed his horse King Cadmus strongly and took down about 5147.00.

NEXT THURSDAY'S GAME. The St. Louis Browns and the Boston cham-pions have six more championship games to play, and upon these six games will settle one way or the other whatever chances was will have for the pennant. The first to-morrow, and the fourth, fifth and sixth games will be played at Sportsman's Park next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The coming series here promises to be witnessed by even larger crowds than have attended the Boston games this season. The Bostons are prime favorites in St. Louis and if the Browns cannot win the pennant, it will be a good deal of glory to beat Boston in the series between them. HE HAS BEEN PROMISED THE SUPPORT OF CAPITALISTS.

Market Which Will Cover Twenty Acre Would Do for the City-Maj. Murphy Explains Board of Public Improve

City Treasurer Michael J. Foerstel has for ar past been taking a very active interes n the prospective removal of Union Market and has taken hold of the subject in a very practical and business-like manner. He has nown for a long time that the present Unio Market is not in size and acc roportionate to the city, and has felt that Mr. Foerstel gave his views on the subject this morning and also gave a general idea of

"My plan is one which at first looks a little visionary, but I am sure that it can be carled out. I have spoken to a great many of the wealthy men of St. Louis, and in every case the plan has been indorsed and offers made to put in money in large sums. What we want to do is this: Buy about twenty locks of property in a favorable locality and mense market square. On one distance say of four city blocks. In the nex distance say of four city blocks. In the heat row have your meat markets, both whole-sale and retail. Then in the big open space remaining have your general market and produce men. In this big space there should be no stalls or buildings. The farmers and be no stalls or buildings. The farmers and rardeners could drive in and range along in gardeners could drive in and range along in rows, and at the back of their wagons they could set up a counter or table on which to display their produce. When the market hours were over each evening they could pick up their traps and drive away. Then the whole square could be thoroughly scrubbed wn with a hose and brooms and made into a big promenade, which could be well lighted up and made very attractive. "I estimate that with a big central market we could count on having five or six hundred wagons in every day and everybody would know just where to go to buy or sell. As it is now, the home producers from all of the surrounding counties don't know where to go and are here to-day and in another place to-morrow. They are scattered along the streets and on vacant lots, so that half the time you don't know where they are. With a central market the hotel men would know right where to go for their supplies and the housekeepers would have a larger and better stock to select from.

"From motives which I need not explain however, who are willing to put in $100,000 each and consider it a good investment. The each and consider it a good investment. The way they expect to get their return is by reserving for themselves a strip of property around the market which will naturally en-hance in value after the market is estab-lished. To conduct and maintain it a nom-inal fee can be charged to all those who could be kept in splendid shape at a very mall expense.

"In course of time if the city felt in financial condition to purchase the market it condition to purchase the market it could be done at cost price.

"The management would be left to the city, as is the case now, and the rules and regulations be established by ordinance or any means which would be found best.

"As it is, the city is not in a position to buy a market place in any way equal to the necessities of the case. It has not got the necessities of the case.

oney and can assume no debts. So that it becomes the duty of citizens interested in the general welfare of the city to come to the front with the funds. Of course, we do not expect capitalists to put their money in and expect capitalists to put their money in and get nothing for it. They are entitled to a reasonable return and should get it.

"I would like to hear the subject thorough-ly discussed, and I feel that with perhaps the exception of a few minor details my plan will meet with general indorsement."

Mr. Foerstel has been talking this plan over

B. P. L. Meeting.

The Board of Public Improvements held a regular meeting this morning with all the members present, Mr. Burnet being home rom his vacation and Mr. Holman having returned from Kansas City. There was a large amount of routine business done, which onsisted mostly of street business and the consisted mostly of street business and the approval of monthly requisitions from the departments under the supervision of the board. President Burnet at intervals during the meeting neglected his official duties to tell fishing stories which none of the members seemed particularly interested in, as they were expected. After a half dozen failures Mr. Burnet gave up his fish stories and talked business.

Commissioner Fechter reported that the Zoo at Forest Park was thriving and all the animals doing well.

Commissioner Murphy's Explanation In reference to Max Thavonat's removal and the causes which led to it Street Commissioner Murphy said to-day:

'I want to say in reference to Mr. Max Thavonat leaving the Street Department that it was not because he was a friend o Mr. Daenzer of the Anzeiger or because the Mayor demanded his dismissal for that reason. Mr. Daenzer's name has never been mentioned between the Mayor and myself since I have been Street Commissioner. Mr. Brennan had no right to say that Mr. Thavonat was dismissed because he was the friend of the editor of the Anzeiger. The fact is I found in the department a great many men who had realously opposed my nomination and confirmation because of the fact that I was not an engineer and they capable and friendly and will do all in their power to make my term of office a successful one. If I make an appoinment that is not a fit one in every respect, I hope the press will score me unmercifully, and if I am convinced that I have made a mistake, no consideration of pride or politics will prevent my rectifying it. I want my friends around me, but the first consideration with me will be: Are they honest and reputable? The next will be: Are they entirely capable?

"This is the first time I have taken the trouble to deny anything that the press has said of me since my appointment as Street Commissioner. On the whole it has treated me perhaps better than I deserved, in fact it has been generous and fair towards me."

Dr. E. C. Chase,

Corner of 9th and Olive streets. Set of teeth, $5 PRIVATE matters skillfully treated and meditines furnished. Dr. Dinsbear, 814 Pine st. THE BEST WHEAT MARKET.

St. Louis Paying Higher Prices Than Any Other.

The wheat shippers and receivers of St.
Louis are daily more and more encouraged by the amount of grain that is coming in, and the advices that they receive of intended shipments. All agree that the present season is the best that this city has ever known, and that the advantages of St. Louis as a shipping point are being appreciated at their full worth. Not only is more wheat actually coming into the market than ever before at this season, but the receipts in relation to those of other grain centers are much greater than usual. One reason for this given by an exporter is the fact that St. Louis has long possessed and deserved the reputation as the best fine wheat market in the country. When crops are poor and the grades of wheat average low, other markets sometimes offer as good or better facilities, but with a high grade crop St. Louis is second to none. The crop of the present year is remarkable not only for its abundance but also on account of its fine quality, and St. Louis has benefited accordingly. The traders of this city have recognized their opportunity, and have improved it to the utmost. St. Louis has long had the reputation of a bear market, but at present it has proved that the ursine proclivities can be readily thrown off. For some days past the prices in this city have been better than those prevalent in any competing market, and in consequence a great deal of grain has been drawn to this city that under ordinary circumstances would have gone to other markets. This is particularly marked in the best grades of grain. The wheat sent from this city has cocurred the buyers are naturally seeking St. Louis grain. The liberality of the inspection has had an excellent influence. Of the receipts here between 60 and 70 per cent has been graded as No. 2, while less than 16 per cent of the Chicago wheat has come up to this standard. The farmers are beginning to perceive this, and grain is pouring in so rapidly that the only difficulty met with is in handling it. ipments. All agree that the present season the best that this city has ever

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES.

DOUBLE CELEBRATION AT TRINITY M. E. CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY.

History of the Church-List of the Pasto -New Presbyterian Church of the Covenant on Grand and St. Louis

Next Sunday, Sept. 6, is to be a great day to the history of Trinity M. E. Church, corner o Tenth and North Market streets. During the mmer the congregation have repaired their building, putting in a yellow pine celling, his stay was very brief, and was condined entirely to the Union Depot. He arrived at 6:40 in his private car Atalanta, accompanied by his daughters, Misses Annie and Helen Gould, his two younger sons. Dr. Munn of New York, his medical adviser, and S. H. H. Clark, General Manager of the Missouri Pactific and Union Pactific and family occupied what is termed the "official car." As soon as the train reached the depot Mr. Gould's car was attached to the "Big Four" Express for New York, While they were waiting the young members of Mr. Gould's family promenaded the plat form watching the crowds. Mr. Gould remained in the car with Mr. Clark and Dr. Munn. He was in good health, though somewhat fatigued from traveling. He said his trip to the mountains had done him untold good, and that as soon as he reached New he would get back to business in earnest. He said also that during his xix weeks' sojourn in Idaho and Colorado he never looked at a paper. Concerning the reports affecting the Union Pacific he said he was not worried in the least. Mr. Clark added that there was no foundation for the reports affecting the Union Pacific he said he was not worried in the least. On the evening of Jan. 1, 1856, Rev. Nathan Shumate, the pastor of Ebenezer Church, preached to sixteen persons in the parior of D. H. Mitchell at No. 34 Brooklyn street and most of his congregation decided to become members of the new church about to be organized. In a little more than a month afterwards the present site was purchased and a small frame building was erected upon it, and Rev. Samuel Huffman became pastor of the society which was formally organized on Nov. 10, 1866. Prosperity compelled an enlargement of the building about five years after its erection, and the long, narrow structure became famous as "Little Jim." In 1869 the first story of the present building was erected, the second being added about two years later. The list of pastors is a long one. Rev. S. Huffman was appointed in the spring of 1866, and served nearly two years, Rev. Thomas Owens filling out the term. In 1868 Rev. J. L. Conklin became pastor, but death cut his work short in about nine months, and Rev. Thomas Lee supplied the charge until Conference: Rev. T. H. Mudge was pastor in 1889; Rev. J. C. The parishioners of St. Mary's and St. Vinproposed erection of the new church on This teenth street and Morrison avenue. St. Vincent's church is the gift of Henry Soulard, who donated it for the use of the French and German inhabitants. When the French and the court of the congregation took their place. There are 250 families in the German congregation and fifty in the English-speaking one. The erection of St. Mary's Church on the proposed site would divide the congregation by absorbing the German part of the congregation. The Lamarists wrote to Bishop Kenrick about the matter and received word from him that he had not given St. Mary's permission to build on the proposed site and never would. Father Faerber said that Vicar-General Muhisiepen had obtained permission from the Archbishop hat January, and when the Archbishop hat January, and when the church be built; it is necessary. Father Faerber said they were relying on the word of the Archbishop. Father Muhisiepen is the only one who can straighten the matter out, and he is not in the city at present. If the Archbishop refuses his permission St. Mary's will suffer a heavy financial loss as the prop1000 Fine Brass Drums E'E HE

New Presbyterian Church.

Work will begin next Monday on the new Presbyterian Church of the Covenant near Grand and St. Louis avenues. The building will be a modern structure of brick, the interior finished in natural wood. The estimated cost is about $12,000. In appearance it will resemble greatly the new Baptist church recently erected on the opposite side of the street. Dr. J. B. Brant, the pastor, will personally supervise the erection of the building.

Mrs. Maria Woodworth, the noted evange st, returned to the city last night and held a revival meeting at 4186 Easton avenue. She was cordially greeted by a large concourse of friends, some of whom presented her with rich floral offerings. After a general handshaking, she took the platform and spoke of her work in Topeka, Kan. She leaves for Tiorida Sunday night to be gone for a year.

Rev. B. G. Pinkerton of the Chri gelist has gone to his old home at I Ky., for a short vacation.

Rev. Dr. Warner of the Kirkwood Baptist Church will be at home next sunday. Rev. Father Smith of the new St. Agnes

Dr. George Martin has returned from the East and will occupy his pulpit next Sunday.

Rev. J. H. Garrison of the Christian Advocate will dedicate a church at Stater, Mo., Sunday.

Rev. W. F. Irwin will supply the pulpit of the Second Presbyterian Church next Sunday.

"IT is truly a delight," says a writer in the Ladies' Home Journal, "to trade at a store where you have implicit confidence."

We hope we have this confidence, not only of the ladies, but of the men as well. We try to be worthy of their utmost confidence, and if by any means aught should happen to make it seem otherwise, it is some mistake which it will be a pleasure for us to explain, and if any wrong, to right it. We want our goods to be our constant recommend. It is through them we have gained the confidence of the people, and it is through them we can keep it. Especially do we feel this to be the case with our Boys' and Children's wear. Mothers are especially appreciative of qualities and value in their boys' clothing. We are making our boys' wear constantly more and more deserving of their confidence and appreciation. We ask the mothers to see our Boys' School Wear and Dress Suits. They will like styles and prices, we are sure.
